Medical anthropologist and physician Paul Farmer is the Kolokotrones University Professor, Harvard University; Chair of the Department of Global Health and Social Medicine at Harvard Medical School; and a founding director of Partners In Health (PIH), an international non-profit organization that provides direct health care services and undertakes research and advocacy activities on behalf of those who are sick and living in poverty.

Providing Global Health Care, Access, and Equity, Beginning in Haiti

AN EVENING WITH

PAUL FARBER

OPEN ADMISSION TILL SEATS FILLED

Special thanks to:
Drury G. Bagwell Omicron Delta Kappa Leadership Lecture Program for their generous donation

Supporters for this official FEARLESS IDEAS event include:
Office of Diversity and Inclusion • Department of Resident Life • Office of Global Initiatives and Center for Social Value Creation University Alumni Association • STAMP Special Events • Maryland Hillel • Office of Multicultural Involvement and Community Advocacy • Dept. of Agricultural and Resource Economics • Office of Community Engagement • Department of Anthropology College of Arts and Humanities • Office of Student Conduct • Global Communities Living Learning Program—College of Behavioral and Social Sciences • Minor in International Development and Conflict Management